

WILF IMPACT CENTER CONVERSATIONS

Wilf Impact Center Conversations is a speaker series that highlights how current events impact civil rights and civil liberties.

How Can The Criminal Legal System Offer Restorative Justice Approaches?

Our legal system asks: What law was broken? What should the sentence be? Restorative Justice asks: Who was hurt? What do they need to heal? Who needs to take responsibility?

Please join Professor Susan Abraham and guest speaker, Erika Sasson, lawyer and restorative justice facilitator, for a discussion about how a restorative process can fill the need for reconciliation, healing, and accountability after a violent crime has occurred. She will explain how a restorative process she facilitated following a homicide came to be, and the role it played in the process.

DATE: Thursday, October 19, 2023

TIME: 12:50 p.m.–1:50 p.m.

Pizza will be served.

PLACE: W320

RSVP: www.nyls.edu/impactRSVP

This event is co-sponsored by the Restorative Justice Project and NYLS Student Organizations: Restorative Justice Law Student Association, Criminal Law Society, and the National Lawyers Guild Chapter.

NYLS students, faculty, and staff are invited to attend.

